

Sussex County Girls Squads selected for 2016 season

The Sussex Women's Cricket Association recently held assessments for their County age groups squads for under 11s through to under 17s.

There were over 130 girls assessed over two weekends, all aiming to be selected into one of the five County girls age group squads.

68 girls were selected for the County girls age group squads for the 2016 season, where they will start training this November through to the end of March. They will then continue their training outside from April and will play matches for Sussex during the 2016 season, with the U13s, 15s and 17s all playing in the Royal London One Day Championship.

Director of Sussex Women's Cricket, Charlotte Burton said, "It is great to see so many girls come to County assessments again this winter and wanting to play at a high level. Credit goes to all the clubs who are working with the girls around the County and developing these players. We had to make some tough decisions during the selection process but we believe we have selected a strong blend of players for each squad to represent Sussex next season. The hard work begins now with an intensive training programme so we can get all the players ready for the season, which will be upon us before we know it".
